DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 66-86 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The claims now include the limitation that the distal portion is more flexible than the proximal portion. The support for this limitation in the specification relates only to the Figure 4A embodiment. Such a limitation was not originally disclosed in association with claimed Figure 13A embodiment.

Response to Arguments

The prior art rejections of claims 66-86 have been withdrawn in light of the new matter rejection supra. If the flexibility limitation is deleted to overcome the rejection, the prior rejections will again be applicable.
